PHOTOGRAPHERS' GUIDELINES

Only those photographers on assignment will be allowed space on the floor and their photo credentials must be worn prominently at all times.

Credentials are good for admittance to Bankers Life Fieldhouse, Bill York Media Room and the designated photographers' areas on the Fieldhouse floor. Only television photographers doing postgame interviews will have access to locker room areas.

Photographers are allowed only within the designated photographers' area at each end of the court. Spaces will be assigned by Pacers Media Relations.

All photographers and TV cameramen must stay at least four feet behind the baseline at all times. In the event it is not physically possible to achieve this in certain arenas, an appropriate standard will be determined by Media Relations and the NBA.

Photographers must remain stationary and seated at all times, except at quarter breaks and halftime.

Photographers are not permitted on the court at any time during the game.

No food or drink is allowed on the playing floor.

Photographers cannot shoot from public walkways or vomitories.

If space is available, photographers may request to shoot from the media seating in the stands.

When placing tape on the playing floor, authorization must be received from a member of the media relations staff or the Facilities Division.

NOTE: Photos are for accredited media outlets only. Selling of photos for any purposes is strictly prohibited and will result in forfeiture of credential.

EQUIPMENT

Photographers located on the baseline or sideline will be permitted only one standard-size "Domke" bag, which must be placed behind the photographer during the game. Equipment not needed during the game must be stored off the court. One additional camera can be stored either beside or directly behind the photographer.

Should a photographer need to leave the floor during the game, the photographer MUST TAKE ALL EQUIPMENT with them. Cameras, bags, etc., cannot be left in a vacated space. Due to safety issues, there will be no exceptions to this rule.

Each photographer will be permitted one monopod — NO TRIPODS — at courtside. No stand-alone remotes or seats other than "lawn-type" photographer seats will be permitted.

INTERNATIONAL MEDIA POLICY

All international media (affiliations distributed outside of the U.S.) requests are handled by the NBA International Public Relations Department.

Any international media member interested in covering an Indiana Pacers regular-season game must first submit a request in writing to the NBA. Please do not contact the Pacers individually.

All credential requests must be received at least three business days prior to the first games requested.

Photo identification will be required when picking up confirmed credentials at the Media Entrance.

Requests may be FAXED to the attention of:

NBA International
FAX: (212) 407-8044

Additional information on international media policies may be obtained by contacting the NBA's International PR Department at (212) 407-8000.

RUBBER LENS SHADES

In order to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are required for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot NBA game action. Any additional light sources or sun guns must either be removed or covered with bubble wrap.

Rubber lens covers are available by contacting:

Roberts Distributors, Inc.
255 S. Meridian Street
Indianapolis, IN 46225
(317) 636-5524
FAX: (317) 636-5793

The only exception to this policy will be for those photographers utilizing telephoto lenses (i.e., 300 and 400 mm lenses) when such lenses are used to shoot game action at the opposite end of the court. These lenses must be stored behind the photographer when the action is in the near side of the court.

LOCKER ROOMS

No still photography is permitted in either team's locker room.

CLOTHING

All photographers must leave any outer wear, i.e., coats, hats, gloves, etc., in the Bill York Media Room during game action.

TV NEWS CREWS

Credential requests must be received by noon the day of the game.

News crews are restricted to crowd interviews in the Entry Pavilion, outside of the ticketed area. Interviews are not allowed in the vomitories on any level of Bankers Life Fieldhouse. News crews are not allowed on the Founders or Krieg DeVault Club Levels, unless accompanied by a member from media relations. In order to enter a Suite, each news crew must have permission from the individual Suite Holder to enter their respective Suite. Once permission is granted, the news crew must inform a member from media relations, and then will be accompanied into the Suite by someone from media relations.

During game action, news crews must shoot crowd reaction from designated areas. Check with media relations for locations. No interviews will be allowed within the seating bowl once game action begins.

Media must enter Bankers Life Fieldhouse off of Delaware Street. Once inside the building, media will take the Media Elevator to the Event Level. Go straight to the main inner hallway and turn left. The Bill York Media Work Room will be on your left.

BANKERS LIFE FIELDHOUSE

Designed to capture the rich tradition and history of Indiana basketball and the storied high school gymnasiums and college arenas that house the Hoosier Game throughout the state, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is a unique blend of today's amenities and yesterday's feel.

With 750,000 square feet and 17,923 seats for Pacers basketball, Bankers Life Fieldhouse (formerly known as Conseco Fieldhouse), opened Nov. 6, 1999, when the Indiana Pacers hosted the Boston Celtics. In the intervening years, it has continued to add evolving technology and comfort while not relinquishing its nostalgic aura.

It is a building that is unique in today's sports society because extra effort was made to make it that way. In other words, in Indiana, where basketball borders on religion, then it must be played in an appropriate cathedral. Bankers Life Fieldhouse is that cathedral. That's what makes the home of the Pacers and Indiana Fever unique.

"This building has a special feeling to it, so that when people come into it they feel a part of the tradition that the building is for," said Pacers Sports & Entertainment President and COO Rick Fuson. "I think this is a pure basketball arena that reflects the game itself and its roots."

Ground was broken on July 22, 1997, on the $183 million multi-purpose facility and while there were blueprints, a scale model and dreams, it was difficult for anyone to fathom what would evolve. But what rose 14 stories into the Indianapolis skyline is a fit perfect for the city, the state, the game of basketball at any level and the various events a facility of this type would host.

"There are so many features that make it one-of-a-kind," said Tom Proebstle, Project Designer for Ellerbe Beckett, the Fieldhouse design firm. "The most obvious feature is the two huge glass curtain walls facing east and west that mark the beginning of an incredible architectural promenade as you are approaching downtown on the highway and see the lit-up glass set against the Indianapolis skyline. No other arena in the world can claim this. I'm sure it will be copied many times over."

That's the view from the outside. Inside, the unique look and feel of Bankers Life Fieldhouse fully takes over. The Entry Pavilion is a vast gathering place that funnels fans to the Grand Staircase. As patrons make their way up the staircase, their view takes them to their first look at the seating bowl (another unique feature) and to large memorabilia cases on each side of the entrance to the seating bowl.

From there, no matter which direction one takes, it's a nostalgic look. From the signage, to the concession stands, to the sponsor pavilions, to the bathrooms, to the practice facility, to the light fixtures, to the state-of-the-art center-hung scoreboard, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is unique, distinct and, as Pacers' great Reggie Miller once described, "Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable. Far beyond my expectations."

USA Today has called the Fieldhouse "A Cathedral to Basketball" and Amusement Business Magazine referred to it as "The Camden Yards of Basketball." Upon its opening, NBC's Bob Costas said Bankers Life Fieldhouse "is winning raves all around the league, many think it's the best building in the NBA."

That reputation has not diminished.

A dominant feature of the Fieldhouse is the state-of-the-art scoreboard that was added in 2012. The scoreboard features twin 1080p high definition (HD) video screens, each measuring 50 feet long – extending nearly foul line to foul line – by 21 feet high. In addition to the HD screens running the length of the court, the innovative rectangular scoreboard design is capped by a 25' by 14' full 1080p HD video screen facing each baseline. The end result of the design is a greatly improved visual experience from nearly every seat in the building. BLF also features a state-of-the-art sound system, also installed in 2012. In 2014, 18 new large digital displays were installed throughout the building.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse has suites (63), club seats (2,400) and state-of-the-art amenities. But it has a look and feel unlike any other indoor facility.

Thanks to a 10-year, $160-million grant from the Capital Improvement Board, which owns building, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is currently undergoing a wide range of improvements to add more customer service, technology and back-of-the-house upgrades. Foremost among the improvements visible to fans:

- The new Lightbound Courtside Club (formerly the Locker Room Restaurant), a dramatically renovated and enlarged restaurant that offers views of both the TCU Practice Court and the Pacers players as they make their way to and from their locker room to the court.
- The new Sells Group Loft, a consolidation of eight suites on the Krieg DeVault Club Level into an exclusive combination of theatre and loge seating served by a common food and beverage area.

In addition to hosting both the NBA and WNBA Finals for the Pacers and Fever, the Fieldhouse has hosted major boxing, WWE and UFC events, as well as visits from Pavarotti, Bruce Springsteen, The Boston Pops, John Mellencamp, Paul McCartney, Tim McGraw & Faith Hill, Coldplay, NSync, Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Kid Rock, U2, Lady Gaga, Elton John, Billy Joel, Justin Timberlake, Taylor Swift, Carrie Underwood and Disney On Ice. It has also played host to the 2002 FIBA World Basketball Championship, the 2004 FINA World Short Course Swimming Championships, three U.S. Gymnastics Championships and numerous Big Ten men's and women's basketball tournaments.

In 2016, BLF hosted its second NCAA Women's Final Four and in March of 2017, will host an NCAA Men's Regional. BLF also is home to the IHSAA Boys and Girls State Basketball Finals, the IHSAA State Wrestling Championships, and the Crossroads Classic featuring Indiana, Purdue, Butler and Notre Dame universities.

Additionally, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has been recognized for its compliance and exceeding of ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) requirements.

One other note to illustrate the building's versatility: it is the most widely used public building in the state of Indiana, hosting between 1.7 and 2 million visitors annually.

In August of 2015, Pacers Sports & Entertainment and St. Vincent announced they are partnering on St. Vincent Center, a training facility and medical office building that will provide local residents and workers improved access to high-quality care. Groundbreaking took place in December of 2015 and completion is expected in June of 2017.

St. Vincent, a member of Ascension, the nation's largest Catholic and not-for-profit health system, is a leader in medical excellence, including primary care, cardiovascular services and sports performance. The 20-hospital system has secured the naming rights and on-site medical services for the five-story facility that will be privately financed by PS&E.

The 130,000 square-foot St. Vincent Center is being built in a pie-shaped space on Delaware Street immediately east of Bankers Life Fieldhouse and adjacent to the Virginia Avenue Parking Garage. It will be connected to Bankers Life Fieldhouse via a tunnel to the event level.

The St. Vincent Center will provide primary care, cardiovascular and sports performance services available for athletes and the general public. St. Vincent Sports Performance will offer sports medicine physicians, sports nutrition, sport & performance psychology, sports science and physical training, which the program currently offers to athletes of all ages ranging from middle school to professional.

Primary care services will also be available to the general public, including preventive care. Board-certified cardiologists will treat patients with cardiovascular disease while offering access to the nationally recognized comprehensive services, specialists and technology of St. Vincent.

The partnership also includes the St. Vincent logo on the Pacers' practice jerseys.

For the Pacers, the St. Vincent Center will house two NBA-regulation practice courts as well as the most modern training and medical facilities required by professional sports teams. Most of the Pacers Sports & Entertainment offices also will move to the Center, allowing future re-purposing and modernization of current space in Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

The St. Vincent Center will be the 20th stand-alone training facility built by an NBA team since 1999. Many of those facilities have partnered with local health organizations.

In September of 2015, the Fort Wayne Mad Ants of the National Basketball Association's Development League became part of the Pacers Sports & Entertainment family.

With the acquisition, the Mad Ants became the 10th D-League team to be wholly owned by an NBA franchise and now all 19 D-League teams are singly-affiliated with NBA franchises.

"We are proud to extend the Pacers brand into Northeast Indiana and excited about continuing the tradition of professional basketball in Fort Wayne," said PS&E owner Herb Simon. "We will work closely with the Mad Ants staff to provide support and expertise on both the business and basketball sides and we hope to build on their enthusiastic fan base."

The Mad Ants were previously owned by the Fort Wayne Basketball Group, LLC, which was led by majority investors John Zeglis, Julie Potter, and Jeff Potter. This summer, the Pacers named former minor league baseball executive Tim Bawmann as president of the Mad Ants. Bawmann joins Brian Levy, who is the Mad Ants General Manager. Levy had previously been the assistant general manager of the Phoenix Suns' D-League team in Bakersfield, Calif.

Steve Gansey is the head coach, returning to Fort Wayne after two years as an assistant with the Canton Charge. Gansey's career with the Mad Ants began back in 2009-10 when he served as an assistant coach.

The Mad Ants, champions of the D League in 2014 and runners-up in 2015, will continue to play their 24 home games in Allen County War Memorial Coliseum. This will be their 10th season in the D League.

The Pacers assign players from their roster to the Mad Ants. In addition, the Mad Ants employ the Pacers' offensive and defensive schemes.

WHY THE PACERS?

When professional basketball came to Indianapolis in 1967, one of the key decisions would be what to call the new American Basketball Association franchise.

According to Indianapolis attorney, Richard D. Tinkham, the nickname "Pacers" was decided on through a collective decision of the original investors. Tinkham, one of those investors, recalled that the nickname was a combination of the state's rich history with the harness racing pacers (investor Chuck Barnes was a horse racing enthusiast) and the pace car used for the running of the Indianapolis 500.

Tinkham said the "Pacers" decision was an easy one, but the real debate was whether the team should be called the Indiana Pacers or the Indianapolis Pacers. Since one of the original ideas for the team was to have it playing throughout the state with its base in Indianapolis, the official team name became the Indiana Pacers.

For a brief history on the Indiana Pacers prior to the team's NBA debut, refer to page 267.

EXECUTIVE STAFF

LARRY BIRD
PRESIDENT/BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Sometimes in the NBA, change is inevitable. Larry Bird saw this and he acted on it.

In 2014, the Indiana Pacers won the Central Division and reached the Eastern Conference Finals. Two years later, only two players – Paul George and Lavoy Allen – remain from that roster.

As the team's President of Basketball Operations, Bird couldn't run on idle or look behind. The Pacers missed the NBA Playoffs in 2015 and reached them in 2016, only to fall to Toronto in seven games in the first round. Going into the 2016-17 season, the Pacers have essentially had a complete makeover as Bird has re-configured the roster in hopes of returning the Pacers to among the league's elite.

That has been his mission for the franchise in two different runs as the President of Basketball Operations. In June, 2012, he stepped down from that role nine years for the Pacers. During that time, he oversaw a roster overhaul that got the Pacers back into the playoffs and, eventually, the Conference Finals. After a year off, on July 1, 2013, Bird stepped back into that position.

"The year off gave me a chance to reflect, to rest, to take care of some health issues and it re-charged me," said Bird. "Donnie (Walsh) and Kevin (Pritchard) did a great job and I have leaned on both heavily as we have continued to move forward toward to the goal of competing for a championship."

"We were all happy to have Larry back," said Pacers' Owner Herb Simon. "When he left, Donnie and I both told him the door would be open for him to come back when he's ready. Larry had a huge impact on this team and so it was fitting that he came back."

Bird had helped to build the team that won the Central Division championship and reached the Eastern Conference Finals three seasons ago before losing to eventual NBA champion Miami. Two seasons ago, with Bird back, the Pacers again won the Central Division and went back to the East Finals. Two seasons ago, an injury-plagued team (including All-Star Paul George), didn't make the playoffs, so Bird, Pritchard and Walsh didn't stand pat as at least seven new faces were on last year's Opening Night roster.

Achieving success in the NBA has been Bird's history. He is the recipient of one of the more unique trifectas in sports and the only one to do it in the NBA: league MVP (with Boston in 1983, '84 and '85), Coach of the Year (1998 with the Pacers) and Executive of the Year (2012 with the Pacers).

Throughout his career, as a player and in subsequent roles, winning has gone hand-in-hand with Bird. The Hoosier basketball legend (he was born in West Baden, Ind., 12/7/1956) was an Indiana All-Star after playing at Springs Valley High School. He played collegiately at Indiana State and in his senior year, led the Sycamores to an undefeated season and the NCAA championship game before losing to Magic Johnson and Michigan State. That season, Bird was the College Player of the Year. His storied success led to him being named one of Indiana's 50 Greatest Basketball Players in 1999.

Then, in 13 seasons as a professional with Boston, he was named the NBA's 1980 Rookie of the Year; was a 12-time NBA All-Star; three-time NBA MVP; helped lead the Celtics to three world championships, winning two NBA Finals MVP awards; won an Olympic gold medal in 1992 as part of the United States' "Dream Team"; was named one of the NBA's 50 Greatest Players in 1996; and was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in 1998. In 2011, Bird entered the Hall of Fame again as the 1992 "Dream Team" was inducted.

After his playing career, Bird's next challenge was coaching and he succeeded at that as well. In three seasons with the Pacers, he led them to a 147-67 record, winning Coach of the Year honors in 1998 and leading the team to its first-ever NBA Finals appearance in 2000. The Pacers reached the Conference Finals in all three of his seasons, winning two Central Division championships and in 1998, Bird earned Eastern Conference All-Star coaching honors. He returned to the franchise July 11, 2003, as President of Basketball Operations, assisting Walsh, who left in 2008 for the New York Knicks in a similar role.

In three different stints with the Pacers, Bird's objective has been simple: "Hopefully, we can get back to the NBA Finals again. That's our goal. Right now, it's not to win a championship, but to get to the Finals and give ourselves an opportunity to win. This is my home state, this is the place I want to do it. I just want to win basketball games. I want to help the Pacers get to the places they've never been before."

From the day he stepped into the front office, Bird seemed to have an impact. Together with Walsh, they put together a team that had a milestone season in 2003-04. They set franchise records for victories (61), winning percentage (.744), road victories in their NBA history (27) and won the Central Division Championship. They also reached the Eastern Conference Finals before bowing to eventual World Champion Detroit, four games to two. In 2004-05, the Pacers returned to the playoffs and reached the Eastern Conference Semifinals. They had a 44-38 record despite a season where they lost players for 309 games due to injury or illness and another 126 due to suspension.

Then in 2005-06, the Pacers finished with a 41-41 record, despite having 236 games lost due to injury. Still, they made the playoffs again.

Despite setbacks, the Pacers didn't step back, they have looked ahead. That's Bird's way.

Stepping into a situation and making the most of it has never fazed Bird. In his first year as coach, he took over a veteran team that had missed the playoffs the previous season. For the third time in the previous five seasons, the Pacers reached Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals, this time extending the World Champion Chicago Bulls. Coming into the playoffs, the Pacers not only made the NBA pay attention, they made franchise history at the time. They had 58 victories, the most since joining the NBA in 1976; their .707 winning percentage was the best in the Pacers' history, including their storied ABA days; they were 26-15 on the road, a franchise NBA best, and had the best road record of any Eastern Conference team. The Pacers amazingly didn't lose two straight games in the regular season after December 10, and through the All-Star break, the Pacers had the best record in the East, thus earning Bird All-Star coaching honors.

The next season, the Pacers won the Central Division and reached the Eastern Conference Finals. In 2000, there was another Central Division championship and the trip to the NBA Finals.

Bird then, as he promised at the beginning, stepped away from coaching after three seasons. Three years later, Walsh called again and Bird came back home again to Indiana.

Bird is married to Dinah. He has three children, Corrie, Connor and Mariah. He is an avid outdoorsman.

KEVIN PRITCHARD EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS/GENERAL MANAGER

Kevin Pritchard enters his fifth season as the Pacers' Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations/General Manager after joining the team four years ago as Director of Player Personnel. Pritchard was named General Manager June 27, 2012.

"This has been a great opportunity," said Pritchard. "To be able to work with someone like Donnie Walsh, whose record with the Pacers and Knicks speaks for itself, and to continue to build on what Larry (Bird) had done here and to work with him again is a great honor."

Prior to coming to the Pacers, Pritchard was the general manager of the Portland Trail Blazers from 2007-10 where he was instrumental in landing 2007 Rookie of the Year Brandon Roy and 2007 first team, All-Rookie member LaMarcus Aldridge. In his time with the Trail Blazers, Pritchard helped turn around a team that eventually posted its sixth-best record (54-28) in franchise history in 2008-09, a year that marked Portland's return to the playoffs for the first time in six seasons.

The 47-year-old Pritchard was born in Bloomington, Ind., and played collegiately at Kansas where he was a member of the Jayhawks' 1988 National Championship team. He played in the NBA with Golden State (drafted in the second round, 34th overall, by the Warriors), Boston, Philadelphia, Miami and Washington. He also played internationally in Italy, Spain and Germany.

Kevin has one son, K.J., and a daughter, Kendall.

KELLY KRAUSKOPF PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER, INDIANA FEVER

Kelly Krauskopf is in her 17th season as the Indiana Fever's top executive, engineering the franchise from its birth in 1999 and directing the club's business and basketball interests all the way to three WNBA Finals appearances since 2009 and its first league championship in 2012. The club's chief operating officer through 16 seasons and the past 12 as general manager, she was promoted to President and General Manager in October 2012.

Since the team was established, Krauskopf has been the guiding force of the Fever from building the team roster to building a fan base for Indiana's WNBA franchise. In her role with the Fever, Krauskopf oversees all aspects of the team's operation.

Since moving to Indianapolis and beginning the task of building a WNBA franchise, Krauskopf has engineered numerous player moves enabling the Fever to sustain arguably the highest level of consistency the 20-year WNBA has ever seen.

Krauskopf has guided the franchise to 12 playoff berths in its first 16 seasons -- including a run of 11 consecutive from 2005 to 2015. Indiana has become one of the WNBA's most successful franchises, joining the Los Angeles Sparks as the only clubs in league history to post eight 20-win seasons. In fact, the Fever is the league's only franchise ever to post seven 20-win seasons in an eight-year span (2005-12).

Under Krauskopf's guidance, the Fever secured identical 21-13 records in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2010 and 2011; and set its club standard with 22-12 records in each of its two seasons reaching the WNBA Finals - 2009 and 2012.

Though Indiana reached the WNBA Finals in 2009 and though the franchise had achieved such consistent, annual success, the Fever had never won the title -- until the 2012 season culminated in a magical playoff run resulting in the city's first professional basketball crown since the 1973 ABA Indiana Pacers.

The Krauskopf-built Fever is the most stable the franchise has ever been, led by perennial All-Star and three-time Olympic gold medalist Tamika Catchings and a mix of young fresh faces such as Briann January and Shavonte Zellous.

The hiring of Lin Dunn as head coach in 2008 only added to the club's stability. Inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2014, Dunn joined the franchise as a scout in 2003, an assistant coach in 2004, and led the franchise to unprecedented playoff success in seven seasons as head coach.

Following Dunn's retirement, Krauskopf tabbed Stephanie White as the club's fifth head coach. White, an Indiana prep and collegiate icon before her own career in the WNBA and later broadcasting and coaching, was Krauskopf's very first trade acquisition in 1999, joining the Fever for the club's inaugural season.

After Dunn's successful tenure, White's hiring proved no less fruitful, guiding Indiana to the WNBA Finals in her first season - after a year which many analysts predicted could be a rebuilding year for the club.

Annually one of the league's most active GMs, Krauskopf's key trades and free agent signings have re-tooled the Fever roster over the years. Besides a February 2008 deal to land hometown star Katie Douglas, other moves have resulted in the acquisitions of past stars Erin Phillips, Tangelia Smith, Natalie Williams, Yolanda Griffith, and Kelly Miller. A midseason move during the 2002 campaign brought veteran guard Coquese Washington to the Fever to ignite a late run to the franchise's first appearance in the WNBA Playoffs.

The cornerstone of the franchise was solidified by the draft selection of Catchings in the 2001 WNBA Draft. The third overall selection in the 2001 Draft and a three-time U.S. Olympian, Catchings was named Rookie of the Year in 2002 and Defensive Player of the Year in 2005, 2006, 2009, 2010 and 2012. The nine-time WNBA All-Star and 10-time All-WNBA selection finally earned a long-deserved MVP honor in 2011, finishing in the top five in MVP balloting 10 times. She won her first WNBA crown while earning Finals MVP honors in 2012.

Krauskopf recently served on USA Basketball's Women's Senior National Team Committee, helping select WNBA players to develop U.S. National Team rosters. Krauskopf joined the committee in 2000, helping select the gold-medal winning roster for the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, and again for Beijing in 2008 and London in 2012.

Krauskopf has been in the forefront of the development of the WNBA. In September 1996, she was named the WNBA's first Director of Basketball Operations. In that role, she was involved in all phases of the league's start-up operation and initiatives. She also developed the league's first set of playing rules, officiating policies, scheduling and other league standards, while working daily with WNBA team general managers and operations personnel.

Before joining the WNBA, Krauskopf was the Managing Director of League Development for Media Sports Partnership, Limited in Dallas, Tex. From 1990 to 1994, she was Assistant Commissioner for the Southwest Conference. In addition to overseeing league marketing, she was the chief administrator for all eight women's sports programs in the conference. She served from 1986 to 1990 as Texas A&M's Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Sports/Marketing.

Krauskopf has served on committees for the Women's Sports Foundation, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, Citizenship for Sports Alliance, and Texas A&M's Lettermen's Association Board of Directors. She currently serves on the Indiana Sports Corporation Presidents Council.

Recently, she was part of the Local Organizing Committee that hosted the 2011 NCAA Women's Final Four at Bankers Life Fieldhouse where she proudly watched her alma mater win its first national championship in women's basketball. She will be a part of the LOC that brings the Women's Final Four back to The Fieldhouse in 2016.

A 1983 graduate of Texas A&M University with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism, she was a three-year letterwinner in basketball for the Lady Aggies after transferring from Stephen F. Austin University where she played her freshman year under legendary coach Sue Gunter.

DONNIE WALSH CONSULTANT/BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

After working three years as the President of Basketball Operations for the New York Knicks, Donnie Walsh returned to his home in Indianapolis and “did nothing.” The avowed workaholic/basketball junkie added, “I found out I was okay with doing nothing.”

Then in June of 2012, Pacers Owner Herb Simon called. Larry Bird, the President of Basketball Operations for the Pacers, was stepping down and would Donnie be interested in coming back. So the man who has been a valuable piece of this franchise since 1984 returned.

After spending the 2012-13 season as the President of Basketball Operations, Walsh gave that seat back to Bird and now works with he and General Manager Kevin Pritchard as a consultant on a daily basis.

“I met with Larry when he wanted to leave and I said I would do this (president, basketball operations) until he was ready to come back,” said Walsh. “He was ready and I couldn’t be happier. To remain a part of this, with two people who I love to work with and respect greatly, is very special. I’m very proud to be part of this great franchise again.”

During his initial 24-year run as, first, an assistant coach, then General Manager, then President, and, finally, President/CEO, the Pacers made the NBA Playoffs 17 times, reaching the NBA Finals in 2000 and making it to the Eastern Conference Finals six times with four Central Division championships.

When Walsh arrived in Indianapolis in 1984, he didn’t plan on staying long. Hired as an assistant coach by head coach and good friend George Irvine, Walsh knew coaching jobs came with short-term realization and real estate agents on speed dial. He didn’t plan to stay long since his goal was to be a general manager in the NBA.

“Never in my wildest dreams did I think it would be with the Pacers,” said Walsh.

In 1986, he became the Pacers’ General Manager and was in charge of a team coming off a 26-56 season and had reached the playoffs only once in 10 NBA seasons. Walsh admitted, “It was hard to change your team back then, you had to do it through the draft, not through free agency. My first week, when I looked at our team and realized what was ahead, I thought I was an interim guy.”

Everyone now knows how that turned out.

“My personal goal for the Pacers’ franchise was to always be included in the great tradition of Indiana basketball with both high school and college,” Walsh said. “The team’s success when I was here before is a point of excellence that I think puts us in that category of Indiana basketball and reflects well on the basketball in this state. But the ultimate goal is still to win a championship.”

“I’ll tell you, I don’t want to think of a team that doesn’t have a person of Donnie Walsh’s quality as part of it,” Pacers co-owner Herb Simon has said. “He’s my kind of guy. He’s straight forward, honest, hard-working, very talented and treats everyone fairly. I don’t know what else you could ask for in a person.”

Walsh has overseen many key moves in the franchise’s history: the drafting of Hall of Fame player Reggie Miller; the hiring of successful coaches Larry Brown, Larry Bird and Rick Carlisle; hiring Bird nine years ago to eventually replace him in the front office; the landing of the WNBA franchise, the Indiana Fever, in 1999; and, maybe most importantly, the building of Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

“I think the Fieldhouse culminated all of our dreams for the Pacers, but I think it also encompasses everything that is Indiana basketball to me,” said Walsh. “That was our goal when we started this and I’m talking about when we started back in 1986 to build a team. We wanted the team to be a part of the tradition of Indiana basketball, which it really hadn’t been up until that point in the NBA. It has been a long process over many years, but I think it culminated with the Fieldhouse because it kind of embodies it.”

“Looking back at it, I’m glad we were able to get the team to the point it was. There’s great satisfaction in doing that. As for the Fieldhouse, I get the feeling of accomplishment in the sense that after being here for so many years, if I have a part in this building it’s that it is something permanent I can look back on and think, ‘Well, I had something to do with that.’”

The 75-year-old (3/1/41) Walsh left the Pacers in 2008 to go back to his boyhood home, New York, to run the Knicks’ basketball operation. Many league experts credit Walsh with making them relevant again as he masterfully created cap room to sign key free agents and made New York a playoff team. He mutually parted with the Knicks in 2011.

Walsh, who in 1988 was named president of the Pacers Basketball Corporation (now Pacers Sports & Entertainment which runs the Pacers, the Fever, Pacers Foundation, Inc. and also directs the management of Bankers Life Fieldhouse), has spent his life in and around basketball.

An outstanding high school player in New York City, Walsh played at North Carolina under Frank McGuire and Dean Smith. After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School, where he was associate editor of the Law Review, and helped coach the Tar Heels’ freshman team for two seasons.

After graduating from law school and turning down offers from then former Vice President Richard Nixon’s law firm in New York City and the U.S. Justice Department’s Honors programs, he took a graduate coaching position under Smith at North Carolina and then became an associate head coach under McGuire at South Carolina. In 1977, Walsh was about to enter private law practice in South Carolina, but Brown, the head coach of the Denver Nuggets, asked Walsh to join him as an assistant. Walsh stayed with the Nuggets as an assistant coach and a head coach before entering private business in 1982.

But in 1984, Walsh was back in basketball as a Pacers’ assistant coach. Two years later, he became GM. He has since been a member of the U.S. Olympic Games Committee for men’s basketball for Dream Teams I and II.

Walsh’s knowledge, professionalism, accessibility and courtesy are highly-recognized throughout the NBA by players, coaches, front office personnel and the media. He is also a respected member of the Indianapolis community, serving on the boards of many charities. In June, 2004, he was honored with the Indiana Pathfinder Award for his contributions to causes involving youth.

He and his wife, Judy, both natives of New York, have five children and live in Indianapolis. They also are avid dog lovers.

TEAM MASCOT

BOOMER

Boomer, the Pacers Panther, is a huge fan favorite who has made a cat-quick climb to become one of the best mascots in all of sports. His amazing athletic abilities and comedic antics win over fans of all ages. This wacky cat has a unique way of entertaining. His act draws plenty of laughs from fans, opponents and even referees.

His popularity continues to grow and he is now recognized locally, nationally and worldwide. Each year, Boomer makes more than 300 personal appearances. He has been to Australia, Brazil, Mexico, France, Spain, Germany, China, Portugal, England, South Korea, Scotland, Taiwan, Puerto Rico, Bosnia, Kosovo, Iceland, Lithuania, London and Holland. He has been a participant in 13 NBA All-Star weekends, featured in NBA national marketing spots and in one overseas publication was recognized as one of the top ten mascots in Europe.

To his credit, Boomer keeps his paws firmly planted on the ground (except when he puts on his dunking display) by participating in many charitable events. Those efforts earned Boomer a ROSE (Recognition of Service Excellence) Award from VisitIndy in 2015. Boomer also enjoys participating in the Pacers Read To Achieve and Boomer's Boot Camp programs, and he travels to local schools putting on dunk shows/convocations that focus on fitness, anti-drug/anti-bullying messages, test preparation and reading. Boomer makes regular visits to area schools to promote these programs. If you would like information on booking Boomer, please call (317) 917-2882.

DANCE TEAM

INDIANA PACEMATATES

Since the Indiana Pacers first hit the hardwood in 1967, the Indiana Pacemates have been right there with them! Originally known as the Marathon Scoreboard Girls and then the Paul Harris Pacerettes in the ABA, the squad presented fashion shows during selected timeouts and halftimes. After several years, the squad evolved into an entertainment entity of the franchise during the 1972-73 season and became known as the Indiana Pacemates. The Pacemates currently act as goodwill ambassadors to the community by making numerous appearances throughout the year for corporate, private, civic and charitable events on behalf of the Indiana Pacers.

The Pacemates' program continued into the 1976-77 season, when the Pacers entered the National Basketball Association. A dramatic new dimension was added to the Pacemates' program when they were heralded as the first professional dance/cheerleading squad in the NBA.

Creatively, the Pacemates merged the magic of dance and the excitement of cheerleading into a kaleidoscope of entertainment. So innovative and organized was the Pacemates' program that similar groups began to appear with other teams. Squads such as the Los Angeles Laker Girls, Chicago Luvabulls and the New Jersey Nets' Cheerleaders could now be found in NBA programs throughout the country. However, it was the Pacemates that were the trendsetters.

The Pacemates' excellent reputation for entertainment came to the attention of the NBA front office in New York City, which extended an invitation to the squad to perform at the NBA All-Star Game. This was the first time in NBA history that an invitation was extended to a professional cheerleading squad. The Pacemates continued to set the trend as they were also the very first NBA dance team to be invited to perform for U.S. and NATO troops stationed overseas on the Armed Forces Entertainment Tour in 2004 and 2005. In the summer of 2009, the Pacemates were invited to China by the NBA to participate in a 14-day tour with the Jam Van Tour and again in 2012 to China as featured performers for the Guangdong Mobile Tour. In 2013, they traveled to Taipei, Taiwan for NBA Cathay Youth Madness and the NBA 3x in Manila, Philippines and attend the NBA Global Games in both cities during the same season. Most recently, members of the Pacemates visited Regina, Saskatchewan in Canada for the NBA All-Star Challenge and to Xi'an, China for the NBA Five Basketball Tournament.

As the Pacers continue to succeed, so does the Pacemates' program, as they continue their tradition of excellence in entertainment and commitment to the community. Cheers to 50 seasons!

RADIO ANNOUNCERS

MARK BOYLE PLAY-BY-PLAY

Mark Boyle has completed a franchise record 28 seasons as the "Voice of the Pacers" on an extensive statewide network, and will broadcast his 2,500th NBA game in 2016-17.

Before coming to Indiana, Boyle spent time in Minneapolis, St. Louis - where he worked in one of the most highly regarded sports departments in broadcasting at KMOX - and New York, where he was one of the original on-air voices at WFAN, the country's first all-sports radio station. In addition to his NBA experience, which includes work on the nationally broadcast NBA Game of the Week, he has worked in the NHL, spending two seasons with the Minnesota North Stars, and has covered the NFL, Major League Baseball and Big Ten football and basketball.

A man of eclectic interests, Boyle has spent his summers broadcasting minor league baseball games, competing in the U.S. Open Chess Tournament, performing with the Indianapolis Symphony and at the Indianapolis Civic Theatre, piranha fishing on the Amazon River, doing standup comedy, and working as a barista at a local coffee house. Active in several local charities, he has served on the Board of Directors of The Indiana Blind Children's Foundation and the Indiana Children's Wish Fund. Boyle spent part of the summer of 2010 walking 500 miles across Indiana to raise money for the Wish Fund, and in 2011 he raised money for charity by performing odd jobs, including working on the pit crew for ML Racing during a NASCAR race in Indianapolis, spending a day with the Indiana National Guard, and filling in as a meteorologist on the NBA affiliate in Indianapolis.

Boyle was recognized as Indiana's Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association for the fourth time in 2015, and has also been honored as the top talk show host in Indianapolis by Indianapolis Monthly magazine. He was inducted into the Indiana Sportswriters and Sportscasters Hall of Fame in April 2013.

As a Pacers' head coach for 12 years, Leonard won 529 games and three ABA championships. Before coming to the Pacers, "Slick" had an outstanding playing career on the high school, collegiate and pro levels and was named as one of the state's "50 Greatest Players." A two-time All-American at Indiana University, he was captain of the Hoosiers' 1953 NCAA championship team and Big Ten Championship teams in 1953 and '54. He then served in the U.S. Army from 1954-56, then played seven years in the NBA - earning an All-Star berth in 1963 -- with the Minneapolis/Los Angeles Lakers.

Leonard is a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame, the Indiana Sports Writers and Broadcasters Hall of Fame and was the first person inducted into the Indiana University Sports Hall of Fame. He was voted by a national sportswriters and broadcasters association as the ABA's All-Time Coach. Recently, he was honored as a member of Indiana University's All-Century Basketball Team.

He also is one of just six individuals in Pacers history to have a banner raised in his honor. Hanging from the rafters of Bankers Life Fieldhouse is a banner honoring Leonard and his 529 victories as coach of the Pacers.

A native of Terre Haute, Ind., Leonard lives in Carmel, Ind., with his wife of 62 years, Nancy, and is a partner in Bobby Leonard Enterprises. They have five children, 12 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

PACERS FOUNDATION

From abuse to obesity to drugs, Indiana’s kids often face tremendous obstacles. That is why the Pacers Foundation gets involved early and often. We fund programs that teach kids how to make winning life choices.

Since its inception in 1993, Pacers Foundation has contributed more than $6.5 million in contributions, community partnerships, scholarships and tickets to Pacers and Fever games.

In its most recent 2015-16 fiscal year, the Foundation distributed more than $400,000 to 48 organizations. That is in addition to ongoing multi-year commitments to the Indianapolis Parks Foundation, the Indianapolis Police Foundation, Boy Scouts of America Crossroads of America Council, Gleaners Food Bank and Boys and Girls Clubs of Indianapolis.

The Foundation, in conjunction with St. Vincent Sports Performance Center, also awards three Linda Craig Memorial Scholarships to Indiana college students pursuing degrees in sports medicine disciplines. Craig was the wife of long-time Pacers trainer David Craig.

We are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of at-risk youth in Indianapolis and throughout Indiana. In doing so, we can help make our Hoosier communities better places to live, work and play.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

We give communities the power to change by partnering with community-based organizations and corporations. For example, three years ago, Pacers Foundation partnered with the Indianapolis Parks Foundation and Indianapolis Power & Light (IPL) in a $1.1 million effort over five years to refurbish outdoor basketball courts at city parks throughout Marion County. As the courts are refurbished, they are co-branded with Pacers, Fever and IPL logos. More recently, Pacers Foundation provided a grant to the Indianapolis Police Foundation to aid public safety personnel in fostering positive relationships with youth in some of Indianapolis’ most high-risk neighborhoods.

BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION

We are not a traditional corporate foundation, supported solely by our corporate parent. We strongly believe that helping Indiana’s youth make winning life choices requires all of us in the community to do our part. Therefore, we invite you to join us in this effort by making a financial contribution to Pacers Foundation and/or volunteering your time to help the non-profits we fund. In our view, the community’s greatest challenges necessitate the community’s best solutions. Join us and be part of the solution.

BASKETBALL STAFF

NATE McMILLAN

HEAD COACH

Nate McMillan enters his first season as the Pacers' head coach after three years as the team's Associate Head Coach under Frank Vogel. His background, former player, head coach and assistant coach in the NBA, as well as an assistant with USA Basketball, makes him very well qualified for this new job.

"I truly believe Nate is the right coach for us at this time," said Pacers President of Basketball Operations Larry Bird. "When I heard he was interested, I got in touch with him, met with him and in our conversation, I came away with all the confidence in the world in Nate to lead our franchise to where we want to go. His experience as a player, head coach and assistant coach in the NBA are valuable assets for us. I like his demeanor. I like a lot of things Nate brings to the table."

"I want to thank Larry, Herb Simon and the Pacers for this opportunity, which is a great opportunity," said McMillan. "I've been around this franchise for three years and understand what the expectations are and look forward to working hard to try to meet them. We have a good team and good base to build from."

The 52-year-old (8/3/64) McMillan has a vast basketball background as a player and a coach. After playing collegiately at North Carolina State, McMillan was drafted by Seattle (30th overall) in the 1986 NBA Draft. He played his entire 12-year career with the Sonics and had his number (10) retired. He is second in franchise history in assists and steals and ranks in the top 10 in eight other categories. He was named to the NBA's All-Defensive team twice (1994 and '95) and led the league in steals in the 1994-95 season with 2.96 per game. In his 12 seasons with the Sonics, they reached the playoffs 11 times.

After his playing days, McMillan was a Seattle assistant coach for two years and became the interim coach in 2000. He remained the Sonics' coach until 2005 and then became Portland's head coach until he was let go in March 2012. In 2008-09, he led the Trail Blazers to 54-28 record, sixth-best record in franchise history and helped the Trail Blazers reach the playoffs in three of his six seasons. McMillan compiled a 458-429 (.516) record as a head coach for both teams. He also served as an assistant coach for the U.S. National Team where he won gold medals in the 2006 FIBA World Championships, the 2008 Beijing Olympics and the 2012 London Olympics.

While many believe McMillan's strength as a player, defense, carried over to his coaching, McMillan says, "I've been labeled a defensive guy. Yeah, I played defense, but you have to be able to play both sides of the ball, and if you expect your players to be two-way guys, you better be able to coach both ways. I will be coaching both ways."

"This job is more than offense and defense, it's a little bit of everything," said Bird. "I think communication is one of the most important things. Every player needs to know where they stand at all times. Why they're not playing, or why they get taken out of games at a certain time. Nate proved in Portland and Seattle that he can do all that. It's not just one or two things. It's really a lot of things. There's more that goes into it than throw the ball up in the air. It's playing hard and together. You're not always going to play well, but you can always get the effort. And I think Nate will get that out of them."

And since his first time around as a coach, McMillan has done what all good coaches have done: go to school.

"I've learned a lot," he said. "My approach will be a little different than it was in 2005. Things have changed. The players have changed. How you coach these players has changed. The biggest thing is being able to adapt. There's a lot of old school in me. I won't lose all of that, but I understand you have to adapt to this generation of players as far as how you communicate with them, prepare them."

McMillan was also inducted into the National Junior College Basketball Hall of Fame in 2001 after playing at Chowan College before transferring to North Carolina State.

McMillan and his wife, Michelle, have two children, Jamelle and Brittany.

Frank and his wife, Jenifer, have two daughters, Alexa and Arianna. An avid Philadelphia Phillies and Eagles' fan, his hobbies include spending time with his wife and daughters, golf, movies and backyard barbeques.

BILL BAYNO
 ASSISTANT COACH

Bill Bayno is in his first season with the Pacers with a long coaching career at all levels in his background.

The 54-year-old (5/18/62) Bayno is no stranger to head coach Nate McMillan, having been an assistant to McMillan two different times when he was the head coach at Portland. After that, Bayno was an assistant with the Minnesota Timberwolves and the Toronto Raptors. He has been the director for the Adidas Nations Camp in Long Beach, Cal., and the Adidas Euro Camp in Treviso, Italy, since 2011.

Originally from Goshen, NY, Bayno played collegiately at UMass for two seasons before transferring to Sacred Heart where he was a Division II All-American. From there, he worked in the college ranks at Seton Hall, Kansas, Baptist College, UMass and UNLV (where he was head coach from 1995-2000 and is the third-winningest coach in school history).

NBA TERMINOLOGY

ACTIVE LIST

Each Team agrees to have twelve (12) or thirteen (13) players on its Active List and to have a minimum of eight (8) players on the bench for all Regular Season games. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Team may from time to time as appropriate, but for no more than two (2) consecutive weeks at a time during the Regular Season, have eleven (11) players on its Active List.

ROSTERS

For the regular season, each team is required to submit the names of its active players to the NBA's Basketball Operations Department no later than 6:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the day before the opening day of the season. For the 2016-17 season, the date to submit rosters is October 24, 2016.

For the playoffs, each team must submit a list of its players eligible to compete in playoff games by 3:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the day following the end of the regular season. Because there is no Injured List for the playoffs, each playoff team must designate the 12 players eligible for the playoffs from all of its regular season lists (Active, Injured and Suspended).

10-DAY CONTRACTS

For the 2016-17 season, beginning on January 5, 2017, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day contracts with the same team in any one season.

TRADING DEADLINE

The trade deadline is 3:00 p.m. (Eastern time) February 18, 2016. From that point until the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.

SALARY CAP

The Salary Cap for the 2016-17 season is $94.143 million per team. The mid-level exception is $2.898 million for teams under the salary cap, $5.628 million for teams over the cap and $3.477 million for teams over the luxury tax. The tax level has been set at $113.29 million.

CONTRACT LENGTH

The maximum length of player contracts is five years (previously six years).

GUARANTEED CONTRACTS

For the 2016-17 season, on January 10, 2017, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

DRUG TESTING

Players are subject to four random drug tests per season and penalties for use of performance-enhancing drugs have been increased.

PLAYER MISCONDUCT

Players suspended for more than 12 games for on-court misconduct will be able to challenge the suspension before a neutral arbitrator.

WAIVERS

Until the end of the season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 business hours after notice. Players waived at any other time, may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one team claims a waived player, the one with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The cost for a waived player is $1,000, payable to the league.

MINIMUM AGE REQUIREMENT

The minimum age requirement has been increased from 18 to 19 years of age. United States players must be at least one year removed from high school AND 19 years of age (by the end of that calendar year) before entering the draft. International players must turn 19 during the calendar year of that draft.

NBA teams have the ability to assign players to the NBA Development League during their first two years in the NBA.

During the 1974-75 season, the experimental rule came into effect. This category has been calculated using the current maximum fouls of six.

MEL SIMON

OWNER • 1983-2009

In the fall of 2009, the Indiana Pacers retired a jersey to honor Melvin Simon, the team's late co-owner, who passed away Sept. 16, 2009. Along with his brother, Herb, the Simons bought the Pacers in 1983. But Melvin Simon's reach extended way beyond the Pacers. He was not only a leader in the business community but a visionary for his adopted hometown and one of Indiana's philanthropic giants. Pacers President of Basketball, Larry Bird, said, "He is a true legend to this city, not only for the visible things that everyone sees each day, but because he was a man who cared about people. He is one of this country's greatest success stories, a man who is a true example of the American Dream. As an owner of the Pacers, he was a joy to work for and to work with. But he wasn't only an owner, he was the biggest and best Pacers fan."

HISTORY OF THE FRANCHISE

On Feb. 2, 1967, a franchise in the American Basketball Association was offered to a group of Indiana sportsmen and businessmen. That group was comprised of John DeVoe, a successful insurance man; Richard P. Tinkham, an attorney; Charles M. Barnes, Jr., President of Sports Headliners; Bob Collins, Sports Editor of the Indianapolis Star; L. Charles DeVoe, L. M. DeVoe Co.; Ron Woodward, Circle Securities; E.J. Bannon, a Lafayette banker; and George Lyn Treece, Burger Chef Systems.

The results of two feasibility studies conducted by the city indicated that the Indianapolis area could support professional basketball. Armed with this information, the group accepted the offer and professional basketball was "back home again in Indiana."

The corporation, Indiana Professional Sports, Inc., was formed to own and operate the new franchise and the corporation went into business with E.J. Bannon as its first President and John DeVoe as the Executive Vice President. Other members of the first board were: Robert Bowes II; L. Charles DeVoe; Richard Ebershoff; Norb Schaeffer; Richard Tinkham; George Lyn Treece; and J. Frederic Wiese.

On June 16, 1967 at a press conference, the Indiana franchise announced it would be known as the "Pacers" because the organization intended to set the "pace" in professional basketball.

Mike Storen was appointed General Manager; Bernie Lareau was named Trainer and Business Manager, while Larry Staverman, an assistant at the University of Notre Dame, was chosen as the Pacers' first coach.

The first player ever drafted by the Pacers was Jimmy Walker, a 6-3 guard from Providence, who was also the first player chosen in the NBA Draft that year. The first player signed by the Pacers was Roger Brown, a 6-5 forward, who was playing AAU ball in the Dayton, Ohio area.

Assisted by Bobby "Slick" Leonard and Clyde Lovellette, Coach Staverman held summer tryouts the week of June 19, 1967. During the week, the Pacers looked at nearly 50 players and attracted over 15,000 fans to the evening scrimmages that were opened to the public.

When the Pacers opened the 1967-68 season against the Kentucky Colonels on Oct. 14, 1967, an overflow crowd filled the Fairgrounds Coliseum. The Pacers, who won the game 117-95, had to turn fans away because of the overcrowding conditions. The Pacers finished their initial season with a 38-40 record. They were eliminated from the playoffs in three straight games by the Pittsburgh Pipers, the eventual league champion.

Despite a record below .500, the Pacers still led the ABA in attendance drawing 192,130 fans, for an average of almost 5,000 per night.

The 1968-69 season marked the beginning of Phase II for Indiana. After only nine games into the season, Leonard was named to replace Staverman as coach of the Pacers, and Indiana was on its way to the top.

That season, Indiana won the Eastern Division and made it to the ABA Championship Finals before losing to the Oakland Oaks, 4-1.

The next season, 1969-70, Indiana ran away from the ABA by posting a 59-25 record, won the Eastern Division crown again, and won their first ABA Championship by beating the Los Angeles Stars, 4-2.

In the 1970-71 season, Indiana moved to the Western Division, which they also won, marking the third straight year Leonard had led the Pacers to a division title. However, they were eliminated from the playoffs by the eventual champions, the Utah Stars, in a seven-game series. The final game of the series was played at the Coliseum in front of an overflow unannounced crowd.

In both 1972 and 1973, Indiana finished second in the Western Division, but was able to regroup to win the championship. In 1972, they overcame some internal problems and ousted the Utah Stars in a fantastic seven-game series, upsetting the Stars in the seventh game in Utah. Indiana captured its second ABA crown by beating the New York Nets, 4-2. In 1973, the Pacers breezed past the Denver Rockets and Utah into the Championships vs. the Kentucky Colonels. Indiana beat the Colonels for the title by winning the seventh game in Louisville in a series that saw the home team win only two of the seven games.

That was the Pacers' third championship in four years and it was the fourth time during the five seasons that Leonard coached the Pacers that they had made it to the finals.

During the 1973-74 season, the veteran Pacers struggled through the regular season, putting on a strong rush to grab second place from the San Antonio Spurs. In the playoffs, they defeated the Spurs in seven games, eventually losing to Utah. In the offseason, the Pacers traded 30 years of playing experience and began a rebuilding program for the future.

The 1974-75 season marked the beginning of another era for the Pacers. First, they moved into the beautiful Market Square Arena with its 17,000 seats. Also, in midseason, the Pacers encountered severe financial difficulties and went up for sale. A 10-man group, headed by W.D. Eason and Thomas Binford, formed Arena Sports, Inc., which purchased the club. The new group of owners was very concerned with keeping the Pacers in Indiana, continuing the winning tradition and had a long range goal of seeing the Pacers play in the National Basketball Association (NBA). They succeeded on all accounts.

The young, rebuilt team was the talk of the basketball world as they upset both San Antonio and Denver, the winningest team in pro ball, in the playoffs to advance to the '75 ABA Finals. But, the magic finally ran out, as they lost to Kentucky, 4-1.

In 1975-76, the Pacers ninth and final ABA campaign, the club finished 39-45, the first sub-.500 season since their inaugural season in 1967-68. However, the Pacers did make the playoffs for the ninth straight season, eventually losing to defending champion, Kentucky, 1-2, in the final seconds.

Following the 1975-76 season, Indiana became a member of the NBA.

The Pacers' success in the ABA has been noted with individual inductions into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. In 2012, Mel Daniels, a two-time ABA MVP, was selected by the ABA Committee. In 2013, Roger Brown joined his teammate and in 2014, Leonard was selected for the Hall.
